Dear Department of Justice:

I support Microsoft their right of freedom to innovate. I have used computers and different programs since 1985 and have always preferred Microsoft systems and products. Had any of the other companies that are now trying to sue Microsoft produced better programs, they would have been ahead of Microsoft due to public demand. Using politics and trying to force a company out of business due to greed and jealousy is NOT going to make their product any better, nor make anyone choose it over Microsoft.

Sincerely,
Karen Shirey
